

Beatelephant

Beatelephant is the new electro-acoustic live-act of Berlin based trumpet player and music producer Ingo Gabriel.

The music is a combination of very percussive Tech-House beats and Miles Davis-like improvised trumpet. A wide variety of moods is covered while always focusing on the aim to keep the crowd moving and smiling!

The Beatelephant had his first appearance at open-air parties in the Berlin area in summer 2014 and since then played at some well-known Berlin Clubs such as Rosi`s, Kultstätte Keller and Loftus Hall and also in Dresden and Leipzig.

During his Jazz studies at the International Music College in Freiburg/Germany, Ingo Gabriel was trained by, among others, Gary Barone and Tom Timmler.

Before getting acquainted with Miles Davis, Chet Baker and all the other famous jazz musicians, Ingo fell in love with electronical music made by artists such as Ltj Bukem and DJ Zinc.

Ingo creates his music with Ableton Live and a Martin Committee Trumpet from the late 1950`s.

Links:

Beatelephant.com

Soundcloud

YouTube

Facebook

RA

Photos

Tech-Rider: Very simple: I only need to go into the sound-system and will bring the fitting audio-cables.

Contact:

ingogabriel@gmx.de

004917623366434

